Altura Furniture – Modern Archetypes In The Making

For more than four decades, Altura Furniture has been designing and manufacturing innovative, exquisitely crafted contemporary wood furniture. Founded in Manhattan in 1983, the company has since moved to its current location in Portland, Oregon where it operates out of it's own state of the art workshop.

Altura's designs blend modern interpretations of furniture forms with impeccable craftsmanship and refined finishes. The company's furniture is available in a wide variety of sizes, configurations and finishes. Altura's niche philosophy is to design comprehensively with the added flexibility of customization to ensure a successful match with a designer's specific criteria.

As designers and builders, Altura independently designs, prototypes, manufactures and finishes every piece to ensure it meets their stringent standards. From material selection to final sanding, each piece is bench made by their own furniture specialists.

Altura's product line now features more than 100 original designs. This award-winning collection of tables, seating, casegoods and beds are represented through select design showrooms nationwide.
